

Cub's Weekly Letter

To the Editor of Our Town:

These are dull nights at the Forum. Many of the members are summering elsewhere, probably having wealthy relatives. Most of those remaining here stay at home nights. It's a bad thing, this neglect of our local debating institution by its most ardent advocates; just at a time when there are so many momentous questions of State to be settled and with Washington having an ear to the ground for any echo or whisper of advice that might be uttered by our local solons. Even Charley Noel isn't there, and the Forum without Charley is like beef steak without the beef. The little chief must miss the fire apparatus with which he loved to tinker nightly. The apparatus, however, if it were alive, would probably have no regrets.

Howard Wilson's Dodo dog, which in the good old days usually made a dash for the fire house immediately on starting for the evening stroll with his master, is seen there no more.

John Caldwell's deep bass voice is missing, and I understand John is sojourning in the Jersey pines. It's said that when John views the country surrounding his summer home, he utters loud regrets that there is no one in the vicinity to improve the landscape, as Narberth has been improved. And yet John doesn't seem to show any enmity toward his neighbors, other than that.

The Count's voice hasn't been heard in the Forum for months, but you see he has a car now and lives a very quiet life. Regularly every evening he dolls up after dinner, walks to the garage, hitches up and takes a nice ride all the way to Howard Davis' and buys him a paper. Then he goes back and stays on the porch until dark. He has a hard life, has the Count, and the same is true of the Street Commissioner. The latter is so tired these daylight saving evenings that he is leaving affairs of State go hang, while he snoozes on the porch. He's also interested in dog raising, and if you want a nice Airedale for nothing, just ask the Commish.

The regular pinochle game is a thing of the past. Doc Faries isn't around these nights to indulge in his favorite exercise. Fred Derby and Perry Redifer have deserted the game for the pool table. Just think, form pinochle to pool—some come down. Talking about the pool table, some irreverent person made the remark that if Derby and Redifer played a game of 100 points and paid by the hour the bill would amount to $1,000,000. Of course, that's a slight exaggeration, but there's no doubt there would be a big dent in the million. These two boys should play chess.

Frank Zentmayer is the only regular that's loyal. He's there all the time. You can't lose him. He sits near the pool table nightly and hands out expert advice to the players, but somehow, although Frank knows a lot about the game, judging from his criticisms, he seems to forget something when he occasionally takes a hand himself.

Bill Cummey—gosh! I almost forgot him. Bill is just daffy over pool. You'd think it was a new game. Up to six months ago Bill hadn't seen a pool table and he's making up for lost time now. Business, home, garden, everything neglected for that pool table. He even hates to leave it long enough to go on a fishing trip. Strange to say, Bill now thinks he knows something about the game, and has gotten the advice habit just like Frank. Mind you, he had never handled a cue until this new plaything was brought to the Forum to keep all of these little boys off the streets evenings, and yet he hands out, or rather bawls out, advice by the jawful. Queer streaks some people get.

But pool table or no pool table—the Forum is a sad place these nights. No more do we hear the cheery summons, "Let's take a walk up to the Wayne."

Wonder why? Don't they enjoy walking any more?

Old Father Hubbard went to the cupboard
To get his poor self a drink,
But as he drew nigh, the country went dry,
So he got him a drink at the sink.

Doc Howard opines that now that this fair land of ours is teetotally dry, the crop of chronic invalids who will need a tonic of beef, iron and wine, with the accent on the wine, is due to take an upward jump.

A man on the South Side lost his false teeth last spring, but has recently located them in his whiskers.

SOLDIER PRISONERS FLEE.

Two Men Leap From Moving Train on Main Line.

Risking their lives in an effort to gain their liberty, two soldiers on their way to the United States disciplinary barracks at Fort Leavenworth, leaped from a speeding train on the Pennsylvania Railroad and escaped.

The identities of the prisoners nor the nature of their offense could not be learned. The train from which they escaped was the second section of one of the big night through trains Saturday for the West.

An officer had charge of the men and did not explain the manner of their escape to the police. The train was not going at top speed, but was going so fast that men jumping from it took their lives in their hands. The Main Line police are making a determined effort to locate the fugitives. They were reported limping along a road in the vicinity of Merion and are believed to be hiding in the vicinity.

BASEBALL TO DAY AT 3.15 LANSDOWNE AT NARBERTH

Narberth Gives Drexel Hill Hard Battle

EXCITING GAME THRILLS CROWD AT HIGH SCHOOL GROUNDS—LANSDOWNE TO BE VISITORS TODAY ON HOME GROUNDS

While Dun & Company were winning a 1 to 0 thirteen-inning game from Lansdowne, and Dobson was beating Autocar 8 to 3 at East Falls, the Narberth team was putting up a hard fight to hold the new Drexel Hill team on Saturday afternoon, July 26.

Anyone who thinks that Narberth fans did not see some real baseball should ask someone who witnessed the game last Saturday afternoon. The final score, 4 to 0, is shown in the box score and score by innings given below.

Our "Big Boy" "Ed" LaFitte pitched a mighty good brand of baseball, but we will have to admit that the Drexel Hillers are "quite some hitters," being at least quite some better than the Narberth players.

"Ax" Jolly, the Narberth shortstop, had a near home run in the fourth inning, but when Spaulding climbed out of the hedge, he had the ball in his mitt. "Bill" Durbin had two of the hits off Sheffy, while the other pair were divided between Stites and LaFitte. The fielding of Durbin and Stites was a feature of the game, and altogether it was considered that the Narberth boys put up a very good brand of base ball against the Drexel Hill team, which is admittedly a very fast aggregation.

This Saturday, at 3.15, we meet the Union A. A. team, of Lansdowne, on the home grounds, while Dun & Company plays at the Autocar grounds, and Dobson goes to Drexel Hill.

Editorial

The Cub is with us again.

For some time our appreciated contributor has been absent from his duty to us on account of pressure of business, and, therefore, has been unable to please us from week to week with his timely notes. We might mention the fact that more explanations have been made concerning the Cub's absence than any other thing which the paper has experienced since its start, and the editor is but one of a great many who sincerely trusts that the Cub will not fail us during the coming weeks, and, while we can reasonably expect that now and then his articles may not be forthcoming on account of duties, yet he should not leave us so long as he did, as it is not the Cub who receives the various protests as to his absence, but the Editor.

While the storm of last Sunday week did considerable damage in our borough, yet such an incident has not occurred for years and years, so the older residents say. We should take our trifling losses due to the storm philosophically and keep in mind the fact that the many bright spots and pretty scenes which our home town continually affords us most of the year should make us willing to accept a few of the bad days in with the many good ones that comes our way.

We regret to announce that the Editor was compelled to omit the publication of Our Town last week, and it is quite in order at this moment to mention the fact that not one of our regular contributors remembered their little duty of sending in his news items.

While the Editor appreciates the fact that, at this time of the year, when so many are away, and when those things that pertain more to out-of-door life are first to be thought of, yet if each one of us would remember that each week a few moments of time would mean so much towards having Our Town kept up to its usual standard, and in the mail on time.

Last week was the first time in over five years that Our Town was not published, and in order to continue this little paper, on which there are no paid workers, it is very important that each one of us assist as much as possible in sending in various short, crisp news items, even though they concern one's self, in which event, of course, the sender's name would not be published.

A paper like ours, and gotten out under the same circumstances, cannot be continued unless there is co-operation, and the future of Our Town rests entirely with those upon whom the paper is dependent for news. The Editor will be very grateful for your closer co-operation.

To the Editor of Our Town:

In the "Bulletin" for Monday evening appears an article by Dr. Frank Crane which is worthy of your quoting in the columns of Our Town.

Most of us were introduced to tree planting for soldiers and sailors who entered the service from Narberth when trees were planted in Narbrook Park and at the Methodist Church during the patriotic fete of 1918.

Since then some of our good citizens and some of the churches have continued the good work.

A charter has been prepared by the Civic Association where a permanent record of the location of these trees has been prepared and a suitable frame arranged for it.

We want all the boys who were in the service or are in it now to have a tree planted and their name appear on the record. For further particulars write to the secretary of the Civic Association. Dr. Crane's article follows:

Roads of Remembrance.

"Attention has already been called to the movement to make our memorials to the heroes who died in the great war sensible, perpetual, and soundly sentimental by tree planting and the erection of community houses, instead of more monuments, arches and statues that mean nothing but vulgar display.

"To this should be added another kind of memorial, which its promoters happily call roads of remembrance.

It simply means to build good roads and beautify them all along the way.

"This is in consonance with the principle that ought to direct all memorial building, to wit: That the fittest memorial for the dead is one that best serves the living.

"The American Forestry Association of Washington is advocating memorial road building.

"The inspiring idea is being enthusiastically adopted in some regions and ought to be in all.

"Tree planting and road building are the sanest, gladdest, most wholesome war-cries of reconstruction.

"Mr. Pack, of the Forestry Association, tells us that along the highway from Chicago to Saginaw walnut trees are to be planted and this will be called the Victory Highway. The people along the route have promised, he reports, to improve and beautify their property. This is a good illustration of the way in which tree planting leads to other civic improvements. The State of Maryland is one of the first to get its highway program under way. The National Defense Highway between Bladensburg and Annapolis will be a memorial to the Maryland soldiers in the great war for civilization. The Oregon Federation of Women's Clubs are back of a plan for a Roosevelt road. In New York a bill has been introduced to create a State commission to prepare plans for a Roosevelt Memorial Trunk Highway from Montauk Point to Buffalo. The city of Buffalo is now considering a Memorial Bridge to link Canada and the United States. The State of Indiana plans a Memorial Grove for every county. In Louisiana trees have been planted along the highway that leads from New Orleans to Winnipeg.

"Trees and roads! These are the words constructive that best answer the ideas of the Hun destructive.

"Trees and roads! These are the fairest marks of civilization.

Subscriptions are now being raised to plant a tree for every fallen soldier in France and Belgium.

"Teacher, get your school to plant a tree in France!

"Let us reforest that denuded land. And let us build roads and plant trees in our own land, until America shall have the most wonderful highways in the world.

"Dr. Frank Crane."

INTERESTED.

To the Editor of Our Town:

As far as generally known, Narberth has not as yet organized its branch of the American Legion. The Legion is an order or an association of all the men who saw service, either active or otherwise, in the late war. It is organized on similar lines to the Grand Army of the Republic, and is bound to be a big factor in the affairs of this country in the years to come.

Most of the large cities and a great many small towns have their own local branch of the Legion. In Narberth there are about 150 men eligible to membership. Perhaps the officers of the Narberth Home Guard will take an interest in this matter and arrange to organize on the same lines as in other places.

It seems strange that no local effort has been made to publicly recognize or honor Narberth's boys in uniform. Ogontz held a celebration in honor of its returning soldiers and sailors, gave them a big spread and a good time generally, in addition to presenting each man with a medal. Why shouldn't Narberth, which just at present seems to be asleep at the switch, do something similar?

ANNUAL CHICKEN DINNER.

The Evangel Circle of King's Daughters recently held their annual chicken dinner at the Holiday House. The affair was largely attended, including many from Bryn Mawr, Ardmore, Overbrook and Merion.

Donations were received, including jellies, vegetables, toys, rugs, fancy articles, etc. A donation was given by Miss Catherine White and her school-mates on Dudley avenue.

The King's Daughters thank all who in any way assisted in making happy the little guests at the Holiday House. Donations will be greatly appreciated. Checks may be sent to Mrs. F. H. Baker, treasurer, Box 711, Narberth, Pa.

THOUSANDS CONTINUE TO JOIN BOY SCOUTS.

Thousands of applications for Associate Memberships have been pouring into the office of the Boy Scouts of America, 200 Fifth avenue, New York, since Boy Scout Week came to a close on June 14.

Checks ranging from $1.00 to others running into several figures continue to pile up the results of the nationwide drive, which has already enlisted the enrollment of 1,000,000 men and women, who, through becoming "Associates" pledged themselves to give a stipulated amount every year to insure the further development and permanency of Scouting.

The new financial auxiliary thus created brings the total membership of the Boy Scouts of America up to a million and a half, which includes approximately 400,000 active Scouts and 100,000 leaders.

Notwithstanding the tremendous size of this organization, it is conducted with a professional force of but 300 paid workers. The rest are volunteers, and, according to James E. West, the Chief Scout Executive, "they give from three to thirty hours a week for scouting, finding in the joy of the work alone, more than sufficient compensation."

WOMAN'S AUXILIARY.

The managers of the Auxiliary for 1919 are:

Mrs. D. D. Stickney, President.

To a Defendant

A jury is twelve men chosen to decide who is the greatest attorney.

A lawyer is a person who defends your estate in order to get it for himself.

REMEMBER THAT

If most of us saw ourselves as others see us, life would lose its charm.

If you are a self-made man keep it quiet or your friends will think you bungled the job.

The prince of prevaricators is the man who swears he does not like flattery, and his running mate is the fool who swallows it.

No day was ever so fair but that the cynic's sneer could cloud it.

Praise may sound sweet, but it is dangerous.

When a man begins assuring you how pious he is, hang onto your pocket-book.

It is not cleverness to do all the talking; the other fellow may have at least one bright idea.

Even if you only make the world laugh you have done some good.

Riches cannot buy content, nor can poverty take it away.

To ask a favor is to pay double its value.

To borrow money from your friends is to make enemies of them.

It is better to throw bouquets than brickbats at your competitors.

It is foolishness to imagine that happiness can be bought with money; you can't even steal it.

The praise we generally get is mainly falsehood, and the blame usually the truth.

Men who never change their opinions are next to fools.

It is foolishness to worry about the lies people tell about you; it is only the truth you need fear.

It is not wise to blow your own horn, but if some one else toots it, don't stop him.

We can excuse a mother for quoting her progeny's smart sayings, but when papa begins we hike to the tall timber.

Not one in a million of the women who married a man to reform him met with any degree of success.

If you want money, go to strangers; if advice, to your friends; if you want nothing, go to your relations.

If some men could realize what even their dogs think of them they would take to the woods.

When a man claims he has been measured for a harp, watch him.

"An old gray owl sat in an oak. The more he saw the less he spoke.

The less he spoke the more he heard. Why can't we be like that wise bird?"

—Collected by John C. R., for "The Gospel Choir."

TRUISMS.

To Most of Us

An afterthought is a tardy sense of prudence that tells us to close our mouth after we have put our foot in it.

A restaurant is a place where we pay the proprietor for the privilege of tipping the waiter for condescending to bring us food.

To Most of Us

A bill collector is one who we hate to see coming to the house, but who we continually invite to call again.

A credit is something for nothing, while a creditor is something with nothing.

To a Woman

Credulity in her own sex is a virtue, but in a man it is a vice.

"Faint heart ne'er won fair lady," but a full purse can usually turn the trick.

Human Nature Decrees

That a hearse gives a man who has always been an "also ran" a chance to lead the procession.

That the gutter gives us a chance to study the stars as well as to provide a school where we may learn of the dregs of humanity.

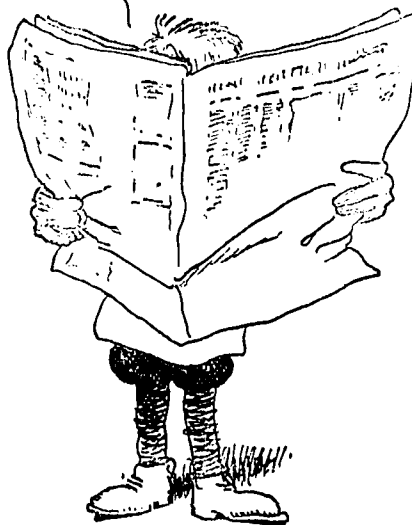

A germ and a German are animal life with the slight difference that one lives in water while the other lives in beer.

Downs, whose husband, a lieutenant in the aviation service, was killed by a fall of his plane. Mrs. Downs named the cargo carrier in honor of the Main Line division's response to the various Liberty Loans.

Mrs. Alexander Chambley has gone to Worcester, Mass., to be a spectator at the regatta being held at Lake Quinsigamond, the 1st and 2nd of August.

Mrs. Thomas Trotter, 209 Woodside avenue, and Mrs. David Morley, 216 Hampden avenue, have quite an assortment of very attractive little fans, which they offer for sale at ten cents each, for the benefit of the Roof Fund. These fans will not only prove useful on these warm summer afternoons, but will also make delightfully reasonable little favors.

The Women's Auxiliary is planning a rummage sale to be held during the second week of September, and will be very glad to relieve any housewife who is contemplating moving in the near future of all cast-off clothing, furniture, china, pictures, etc. Anything salable will help increase the Roof Fund. Please phone Mrs. J. T. Darlington. Mrs. Thomas Trotter, Mrs. C. L. Smith or Mrs. D. D. Stickney when you have packages ready and they will be called for at once.

There is literal grandeur and sweep in the photo drama of Zane Grey's wonderful story, "The Lone Star Ranger," to be shown at the Palace Theatre, Ardmore, on Wednesday afternoon and evening. The plot is of bold rangers pitted against cattle rustlers, and William Farnum, the hero, makes a striking figure in black corduroys, sombrero, cartridge belt and pistols in a handy location, and a ready smile. The story contains more history than fiction and will live as long as capable performers, such as are found in the east, can put a fresh breath of life in it.

During the month of July the Main Line Employment Bureau received from employers 136 applications; the number of employees applying for positions was 112; 57 placements were made. This situation is interesting, as it shows that the number of employees nearly equals the demand. The committee wish to announce that the office of the Bureau will be closed for the transaction of business from August 9th until August 24th, inclusive. The committee also feels that the Bureau has filled a much-felt want and are looking forward to a much-marked increase in its service next fall.

Collegeville will be the scene of an important conference next Tuesday, August 5, at 2 P. M., when a number of men interested in religious conditions will meet with Rev. Irvin E. Deer, of Harrisburg, the State Supervisor of Surveys for the Interchurch World Movement. Among those who have been invited to attend this conference are Dr.

George Leslie Onwaka, of Ursinus College; Dr. O. S. Kreibel, Perkiomen School; Rev. Caleb Cresson, Oaks; Rev. N. F. Schmidt, Schwenksville; Rev. R. L. Williams, Lower Providence Presbyterian Church; Rev. J. R. Brendle, Green Lane, and others. Dr. Cresson has been selected by the Interchurch World Movement to act as leader of the surveys in the rural communities of Montgomery County. The Interchurch World Movement, which is an association of more than 50 Home and Foreign Missions Societies, is making a world-wide study of religious conditions with a view of measuring up to the unlimited opportunities for development in the coming months and years. The survey in the United States is being made in each State, taking the county as the unit of study and tabulation. This conference on next Tuesday is to discuss the procedure to be followed in Montgomery County. This work is being done in every one of the 3,000 counties of the nation. This is the first time the combined forces of evangelical Christianity have made a scientific study of their task, their resources to meet the task, and seriously endeavored to adjust themselves so as to most effectively and efficiently bring the Christian message to every last household in every last community. Mr. F. W. Ayer, a layman of Philadelphia, is general chairman of the Movement; Dr. John R. Mott is chairman of the Executive Committee, and Dr. S. Earl Taylor is the Executive Secretary.

After September 15th bills will not be sent, but will be given to delinquent tax collector for collection with 5% penalty added.

Pay your county taxes early.

The above department should be of the greatest use to the community, the list contains the name of every professional man, tradesman, mechanic, shopkeeper, etc., who does or can in any way serve his fellow townsman, and who is progressive enough to add name to list of Register.

As it is difficult for those contributing their time and efforts to the production of "Our Town" to personally either know or interview all such, it would be most helpful if those not now found in the printed list would send in a memo of their names, address, phone numbers and businesses or professions for listing. This will cost as follows: 10 cents each issue for 2 lines; 5 cents for each additional line.
